

WHOLESALE PRICE LIST

As of April 9 2019

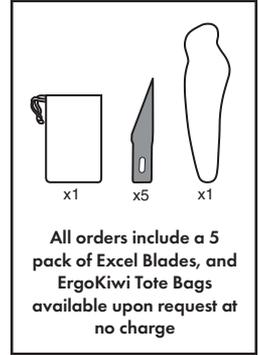

ERGOKIWI 2.0

$12.50 each / MSRP $25.00

The original Kiwi was made on a 3D printer, out of acrylic, and hundreds of iterations have led to the one you see here.

Today the Plastic Kiwi is made from injected molded Polycarbonate, making it virtually invincible. Any areas vulnerable to abrasion have been reinforced with metal parts to ensure longevity. A magnet was designed to hold together all of the necessary mechanics and even lets you store your Kiwi in unconventional places.

We have scrutinized the manufacturing process to make ensure a reliable tool that will never fail. Made from injection molded polycarbonate and hand-sanded for a satin finish.

ERGOKIWI_PLYWOOD

$39 each / MSRP $75 - 85

Our Plywood model is by far our most popular handle. Made from airplane-grade plywood, each Kiwi is comprised of 104 interlocking layers for maximum durability.

This kiwi is sealed with 3 layers of polyurethane, then finished with 1,000 grit to highlight the beautiful grain unique to this industrial material.

ERGOKIWI_BOCOTE

$42 each / MSRP $80-90

People commonly admire the tactile experience of picking up the Bocote Kiwi. Bocote is a hardwood native to Central America with one of the most beautiful grain patterns we have ever seen. It is an incredibly dense hardwood, which is evident when holding this Kiwi.

Interesting fact, when cut, the Bocote secretes a resin that hardens to protect the fibers within. As a result, it dulls all of our bits and takes much longer to cut. Alas, this has always been our favorite handle, the one we work with everyday.

ERGOKIWI_PAPERSTONE

$45 each / MSRP $85 - $90

Our Plywood model is by far our most popular handle. Made from airplane-grade plywood, each Kiwi is comprised of 104 interlocking layers for maximum durability.

This kiwi is sealed with 3 layers of polyurethane, then finished with 1,000 grit to highlight the beautiful grain unique to this industrial material.

Questions? Comments?
Purchase Orders? All inquiries can go to the same place!

cam@ergokiwi.com